TRACHOMA CLINIC

Results Exceedingly Gratifying
—Dr. Frazer Commends
Loyal Support Given
By Citizens

The trachoma clinic has come and gone, the results are extremely gratifying. There was never such interest manifested in public health in our county before. This was a simple demonstration of what can be done by public health workers when there is proper organization and proper cooperation by the good people of the community.

The legislature appropriated thirteen thousand dollars for the trachoma work this year. Dr. C. H. Kubert and his splendid nurses, Mrs. Snedden and Miss Cochran go out into the state and look up and operate for trachoma. The operation is simple and any physician who is properly equipped and has the right kind of assistance can perform the operation successfully. The results are sure if the operation is done at the right time and the after treatment properly followed up.

During the four days of our clinic one hundred and fourteen operations were done. Seventy nine of these were for trachoma and the remainder were for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. If these operations had been done in hospitals with the ordinary charge for the operations and other expenses necessarily incurred they would have cost the people about eight thousand dollars, almost the amount the state pays for this work for an entire year.

We yet have many cases of trachoma in this county, if the percentage runs as high over the entire county as it runs in the people we examined there are about thirteen hundred cases of this disease in the county. Now let us think what this means to Crittenden county, fifty percent of these people will not be able to earn a support in twenty years from now, twenty percent will be blind or so nearly that they will become a charge on the taxpayers. Many hundreds others will contract the disease and the efficiency of our people will be lowered at least twenty percent within the next twenty years by this disease alone.

We have in this county now many people who are totally blind that could have been saved if this work had been begun twenty years ago. Every county in Kentucky has their quota of blind as a result of this disease. What matters about making money, pursuing an education or other things necessary in this life if the windows of the soul are to be closed from God's own light by this preventable disease?

The most sensible thing that I have heard said about our clinic was said by the always thinking Grant Graves. His terse comment was this, "If this work had been commenced one hundred years ago we would not need it now."

We had splendid support from the people and the doctors, and I want to thank Mr. Cook and Perry for their loyal support and help for the work could not have been the success it was with out the work they did. Mayor Howell and Rev. E. N. Hart stayed with us all the time and did the most splendid work I ever saw done by men.

The Superintendent and the faculty of the school gave us their unstinted support and I say all honor to them. In all great things some one will surpass all others, in this work Miss Ruby Hard was the one to do most. She seemed to be every where and know exactly what to do and what to say. She was uncompromising and seemed to never tire in this noble work.

We hope to be able to have the clinic with us again in the future, and to be able to stamp out this dreadful disease.

T. ATCHISON FRAZER,
Health Officer.

J. F. WILSON DIES

John F. Wilson, the oldest citizen of his section and one of the oldest in the county, died Monday night at his home near Piney Fork, aged 90 years. He was laid in rest at Piney Fork cemetery Tuesday afternoon in the presence of many sorrowing relatives and friends.

Two children survive him: W. F. Wilson and Miss Rottia Wilson, both of this county.

Mr. A. C. Habb, of Sargis, was in the city Tuesday.

Farm Bureau Notes

Cut Worms

In some parts of the county farmers are complaining of cut worms and asking what may be done to combat them. They seem to be especially troublesome in corn. Prompt action is necessary for controlling cut worms after their presence becomes noticeable in the spring which is usually about the time the corn begins to sprout. Feeding takes place at night the worms resting during the day beneath the surface of the soil at a depth of from 1-2 to one inch.

Control Measures

Late fall and winter plowing of grain lands although not as effective as early plowing will destroy many of the hibernating cut worms. Pasturing hogs upon land supposed to harbor cut worms is a beneficial practice as these animals root up and devour insects of many kinds including cut worms in large numbers. Farm poultry if trained to follow the plow, will prove of incalculable value.

When cut worms are found to be abundant on corn land the use of the poisoned bait is recommended. This may be prepared as follows: Mix 50 pounds of wheat bran, two pounds of Paris Green and 6 finely chopped oranges or lemons. Then bring the whole mixture to the consistency of a stiff dough by the addition of a low grade of molasses, such as used in cattle rations, adding water if necessary. Distribute this bait over the infected field in small lumps, taking care to sprinkle it sparingly around each hill. In fields known to be infested, the distribution of the bait should be started as soon as the corn begins to appear above ground so that the cut worms may be eliminated as quickly as possible and the injured hills promptly replanted.

Head Lice in Chickens

Head lice do considerable injury to chickens and numerous requests have come asking what to use against them.

To kill head lice on chickens a very small portion of melted lard or vasoline should be applied to the top of the head, under the wings and around the vent. Care should be taken not to get too much grease on the chick as this might prove fatal. These head lice are very injurious and chicks should be examined often for them and be treated at once when ever the lice are found.

Wool Pool

Plans are being made for a Crittenden County Wool Pool. All interested farmers are asked to get in touch with the County Agent.

Soy Beans

Indications point to a larger crop of soy beans this year in various parts of the county.

Mammoth yellow variety is superior for hay, while Lexington, Harland and Hollybrook are favorites for hogging off purposes.

No field crop requires a better seed bed than soy beans. The importance of inoculation cannot be over estimated in connection with the successful growing of the beans. In most parts of Kentucky, May 15th to 20th is the best time for planting the beans. By this time the soil is warm and if it is thoroughly worked before the beans are planted many weeds can be killed and considerable moisture saved.

Perhaps the most common mistake made in planting soy beans is to plant them too deep. An inch is usually deep enough. The soy beans up with their necks crinkled like other beans and if planted too deep may be injured by the crust that forms before they come through the soil.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

For Prompt Signing by Farmers to Tobacco Association Pledges

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., May 10.—Interest in the proposed Dark Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association for Kentucky and Tennessee has increased rapidly of late and developments have come apace, all of which indicate the prompt acceptance of the plans by the farmers, and their lining up with it. There is some muttering of opposition but wherever this is from the farmer, it is believed to be due to lack of information or misconception, which the educational campaign to be put on in each county will effectively overcome.

The most convincing thing which has developed was the splendid results of the first day membership campaign in Todd county, when approximately 4,500 acres were signed up, out of the estimated 8,740 acres devoted to tobacco raising in that county. This far outdoes Bourbon county in the burley district where the first pledges were taken and where the initial amount of 3,000 acres was regarded as a record. Now it is being confidently predicted that the entire dark district will show the burley district a clean pair of heels in speedy organizing, even though the burley district completed its organization in the shortest time ever known for a co-operative association.

But Todd county did not do all of the first signing. In Havens county, where the membership drive has not yet been undertaken, Mrs. Geo. F. Rudy signed, thereby being the first woman in the district to sign a contract.

It is a big job to start the organization work in the dark district, comprising as it does about 55 counties and producing different types of dark tobacco, but this is now under way and the comparatively few counties started have showed such good results that it seems certain the movement will go over big in the entire district. As rapidly as possible the work will be carried to the other counties, but it will probably be a few weeks before the entire district is active.

Chairmen will be selected in a number of counties in the next few days.

SCHOOL NOTES

By J. L. F. Paris, Supt.

Therefore the Press acknowledges its obligations to the Leader for the kindness extended to us.

They ate ravenously, but when they had finished their meal they had a little sugar left, which they converted into candy. And they all did eat.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Quite a crowd, one hundred and ninety in all, of friends, relatives, children and grandchildren met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodall Sunday to surprise Mrs. Woodall, it being her 67th birthday, with a bountiful dinner. When the guests arrived a long table was spread under the beautiful shade trees on the lawn and yet more dinner came and more tables had to be made. As many as twenty-eight cakes and thirty-six pies besides salads, pickles, boiled hams, chicken, sandwiches other things too numerous to mention and really everything to make a good old-fashioned country dinner sumptuous.

Mrs. Woodall was gladly surprised and enjoyed the day very much. Her children, Mr. and Mrs. Harve Hunt, and seven children; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Woodall and five children; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt of Marion and two children; Elder E. C. Woodall, wife and four children; Mr. and Mrs. E. Harris, of Fredonia and two children; and Mr. and Mrs. Reed Woodall, also two daughters, Mrs. E. Asher and Mrs. Elbert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Andrews of Itasca, Wash., making all her children and grandchildren, except Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and five children.

Mrs. Woodall made a beautiful talk saying she loved everybody and believed they loved her, not thinking how soon they were to express their love to her. Her pastor, J. B. Skinner and wife, of Blackford, and her only brother, W. T. Manley, of Repton, was present.

Everyone went away late in the afternoon expressing their love to her and wishing her many more happy birthdays.

"THEY SAID I HAD T. B. AND WOULD NOT LIVE THREE MONTHS"

Mr. Harold W. Schmidt, Box 98, Bruce, Clinton Co., Ill., believed he has reason to praise Dr. Hariman's remedy for Catarrhal conditions.

"I used Peruna eight months for Chronic Prostatic Catarrh. I do not get tired, feel fine, am able to work every day. In March, 1918, I was treated a severe cold with getting and took to my bed. They said I had T. B. and would not live three months. After taking a couple bottles of Peruna and a box of Man-to-Tabs, I could walk around and in seven months was back to work. My trouble was due to Catarrh of the prostate gland, which I had two years, extending down into the bladder and tubes. Peruna was my life savior."

MARCONI REALLY FATHER OF RADIO

Story of the Gifted Italian's Work in Development of Air Communication.

While experiments along the line of radio really started as far back as 1827 and hundreds of scientists were interested in solving the problems involved for many years it was not until 1897 when Marconi transmitted his first message that the history of radio communication began.

Marconi was born in Italy, March 14, 1874. He was a brilliant student and at an early age showed a keen interest in science. He was particularly interested in the study of electricity and magnetism. He was a member of the Italian army and after this service was transferred as temporary commander in the Italian navy. Marconi visited the United States in 1917 as member of the official mission sent by Italy. In 1919 Marconi was appointed plenipotentiary delegate to the peace conference at Paris, and in this capacity signed the peace treaties with Austria and Hungary. He was afterward awarded the Italian military cross.

including the Nobel prize, has not given up active work, but is even now engaged in radio telephone experiments.

Radio enthusiasts have increased tenfold within the last few months. It appears from a survey conducted by the Associated Press and covering the central west, Kentucky and Texas. At virtually all points from which reports have been received there are thousands of radio sets, particularly for purposes of telephony, where at most there were hundreds before.

While the sets are used chiefly for pleasure and experience, they are being put to practical uses in many cases. Numerous farmers are recivself to commercial purposes. In December, 1909, Marconi installed apparatus to provide communication between the South Foreland lighthouse and a lighthouse on the south coast. In 1909 Marconi read a paper on "Wireless Telegraphy" before the Institution of Electrical Engineers in London.

Early in 1901 telegraphic communication was established between two points more than 250 miles distant and at the end of that year Marconi transmitted signals from Padua, in Cornwall to St. John's, Newfoundland. In 1902 he received on board the steamship Philadelphia in the presence of the officers, good messages on the tape when at a distance of over 1,500 miles from the transmitting station and signals at over 2,000 miles. In December, 1902, the station established at Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, under a contract with the Canadian government for transatlantic wireless telegraphy, was put into communication with the Cornwall station at Padua and signals were transmitted to the King of England, the King of Italy and to the London Times. In October, 1903, the steamship Lucania published a daily wireless bulletin from messages received from the Marconi stations. A powerful station at Clifden on the west coast of Ireland was opened early in 1907 for the establishment of commercial relations with the American continent at Cape May.

Mr. Marconi's work has been recognized by many governments and seats of learning; he has been decorated by the King of Italy and the late Emperor of Russia as an honorary doctor of many universities, including Oxford, Glasgow, Aberdeen, Liverpool and Pennsylvania, besides having received the freedom of the principal Italian cities. In 1911 he was elected a senator in the Italian parliament. He also holds many scientific awards granted by various societies and institutions.

ing market and weather reports, and police are receiving bulletins. Sermons, concerts, health talks and style talks are transmitted. Universities and professional operators are co-operating.

Approximate figures are reported from various states and centers in indicating the present number of radio sets. According to A. L. Hanson of St. Louis, division manager of the American Radio Relay league about 10,000 radiophones are used in four states as follows: Iowa, 23,000; Missouri, 25,000; Nebraska, 22,000; Kansas, 20,000. In St. Louis alone there are some 2,200. The radiophones chiefly carry concert music, but in many localities farmers have installed them to receive market reports.

Correspondence from Texas reports 200 stations in Dallas, ranging in size from 4 K W to 20 watts and almost equal numbers in other cities of the state.

Cleveland, Ohio, reports probably 15,000 radio enthusiasts, 1,000 sending stations in greater Cleveland vicinity all amateur and 10,000 receiving sets used almost nightly. These estimates exclude commercial sets. Cincinnati reports 500 sets.

Indiana has 4,500 amateur radio sets and Indianapolis 1,000 radiophones. Wisconsin has nearly 1,500 stations and the number is said by Malcolm P. Hanson, University of Wisconsin operator to be increasing at the rate of five a day. Nearly 1,400 sets are reported in Milwaukee and vicinity.

North Dakota has a number of receiving stations and a few fairly powerful telegraph and telephone sending stations. The North Dakota Agricultural college is planning to install a 100-watt service for farmers. The vacuum tube to displacing older equipment in the state.

Marked growth is reported at Omaha Neb. by two radio clubs which have been in existence only six months. The University of Nebraska and Nebraska Wesleyan, cooperating send to amateurs in Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Colorado and Kansas.

HARDIN PUT BACK ON HIS FEET TWICE

Was Relieved of Both Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble by Tanlac, Stated Los Angeles Man.

"For the second time Tanlac has put me on my feet, and you may know by that what I think of it," said William T. Hariku, 1409 Garden St., Los Angeles, Calif.

"Three years ago, I had rheumatism in my shoulders and neck so bad I could hardly work. I tried medicine after medicine only to get worse, but finally I got hold of Tanlac, and I haven't had a trace of rheumatism since."

"Then last summer my stomach got out of order, I lost my appetite and what little I did eat made me feel bloated, all stuffed up and miserable. I always felt weak, tired and worn out, and was so nervous I couldn't sleep."

"Well Tanlac did a good job for me before, so I just got some more of it, and now it has again fixed me up, and I'm feeling strong and energetic like I used to. I'll tell the world Tanlac's the medicine for me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

EXAMPLE OF HIGH FINANCE

Many Who Go into the Game Come Out of It Feeling Like This Country Boy.

Representative Hamilton said at a dinner in Wheeling:

"The average man had better leave high finance alone. When the average man goes up against high finance he generally feels like the farm boy."

"A city boy had a half-dollar and a circus had just come to town; but the cheapest circus ticket cost 75 cents, and this put the city boy in a hole."

"But he was a financier in embryo, and so he went right off to a pawn broker's and pawned his half-dollar for 40 cents."

"Afterward he waylaid a country boy, displayed his pawn ticket, and offered to sell it for 35 cents. A half-dollar for 35 cents! Of course the country boy snapped up that bargain."

"The city boy with his 75 cents then hurried off to the circus. The country boy, after he had worked out this deal of his in high finance to the bitter end, sought a retired place and kicked himself."

The Empty Bin and Bowl.

The trouble, which has been known as the sugar bowl and the empty bin of Europe is pretty nearly empty and it is a question whether the country has enough to keep its own people until the next harvest. The wheat crop last year was hard hit by reason of the absence of the snow which allowed the seed to be frozen in the ground for lack of protection granted by the mantle of snow.

At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?

Is that a queer question?

Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing.

The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea.

This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious ills often follow.

If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody?

Think it over.

Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children.

There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying, inimitable beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits!

Wrangling and Politics Mark the Doings of the Genoa Conference.

RUSSIA'S GREEDY DEMANDS

France Threatens Independent Action Against Germany and Lloyd George Is Angry—Centenary of General Grant's Birth Celebrated—Great Battle Impends in China.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

It was hard to believe that the conference at Genoa, which was to be a meeting of the world's great powers, would be so full of wrangling and politics. The conference was supposed to be a meeting of the world's great powers, but it was a meeting of the world's great powers, and it was a meeting of the world's great powers.

With true Orientalism, the Russians are bargaining with the other powers and last week succeeded in bringing about a deadlock. To end this condition the representatives of the big and little ententes and Portugal drew up what amounted to an ultimatum, warning the soviet delegates that if they would not accept the proposition made to them, the Russian phase of the conference would come to an end.

Briefly stated, here is what the ultimatum proposed: First the powers must recognize the soviet government de jure, and must grant it sufficient loans to enable it to reorganize her national life. Russia will recognize her prewar debts, but demands a thirty years' moratorium on them, with cancellation of arrears of interest and of interest during the moratorium. Russia demands her claims against the powers due to the anti-Bolshevik campaigns and to refuse expects that her war debts to other powers will be "written down" but not paid. Russia refuses to restore confiscated property because this is contrary to their policy of nationalization. She claims Russians have the right to possess property in foreign countries which are under a bourgeois regime. In short, Russia would take all and give nothing.

Though the British declared some sort of a settlement with the Russians must be made, M. Barthou, chairman of the committee handling the matter, abruptly ruled a halt to further discussion of the Russian debt. The French backed by their government, were absolutely opposed to recognizing the soviet government and to granting it credits and agreeing to compromise their Paris loans would support them in this effort, and perhaps also their Italian, Hungarian, Polish, Rumanian, and Czechoslovakian friends.

THE hundredth anniversary of the birth of Thomas M. Hardy was observed on Thursday in his birthplace, Pains Mill, N. J., in Washington and in many other places throughout the country. President Harding went to the town with a large party of prominent men and women, and what is left of the town in which the great poet was born, and the town in which the great poet was born, and the town in which the great poet was born.

UNLESS President Huo Shih Chang is able to avert it by his appeal, just issued, the impending civil war in China is now to culminate in what will probably be the greatest battle that country has had in many years. The big armies of General Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu are prepared for the conflict, near Peking. The president has called on them both to withdraw from that vicinity and from Chihli province and to send mediators for adjustment of their differences. The acting premier has asked the governor of each of the 18 provinces to send to Peking a commissioner to devise measures to rid the country of the armies, which are now the largest in the history of China. American, British and French warships have been sent to Chinese waters and the American legation guard at Peking has been reinforced. If necessary, the allied fleet will land troops to keep command of the water between Peking and the sea.

MICHAEL COLLINS, head of the Irish Free State council, accused the British government of failing to live up to the peace agreement. This Sir James Craig indignantly denied in words that lead observers to believe a direct break has come. Sir James said that, notwithstanding the undertakings aimed to be given across the border, the British government had not lived up to the peace agreement.

Fighting between the Free State forces and the British reached the point of a real battle on Thursday at Mullingar. The regulars captured the town. Both sides met in Dublin and heard reports from the front. The British government had not lived up to the peace agreement.

WARNED by Senator Watson that it would be futile to consider the House soldiers' bonus bill because the President would certainly veto it, the House Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee last week began consideration of a new bill formulated by Senator McNamara. Its outstanding feature is that it would require at once next year estimated at $100,000,000 as compared with the Treasury department's estimate of $100,000,000 required by the House bill. Representatives of the American Legion were invited but seemed to prefer the House measure.

AN AFTERMATH of the West Virginia coal field war of 1921, the trial of the miners' union officers and members on charges of treason, has opened in Charles Town, W. Va. The most prominent of the defendants are C. Frank Keeney, president and Frank McNamara, secretary of district 17. Forty-four others are accused of treason and many others of murder and conspiracy. Some of these have not been arrested and some have obtained change of venue. After motions to quash the indictments had been denied the court ruled for separate trials and William H. Hays, known as "general" of the march against Logan, was selected as the first defendant.

PRESIDENT HARDING is working out a plan for settling the coal strike and preventing future strikes, and what he does will serve to settle the strike. The plan is to settle the strike, and what he does will serve to settle the strike.

FEDERAL aid for the shipping merchant marine is given approval by the American Farm Bureau federation, which has wired President Harding as follows:

"While opposed to any unholy on principle, we realize the necessity for developing the American merchant marine as a naval auxiliary and as an agent in the development of foreign trade. We approve and temporarily until our flag can be established on the high seas, but no longer. Subsidies, like tariffs, should be flexible, and not continue after industry becomes self-supporting. If subsidy is supported on naval grounds it is essential that merchant ships be available and used for training of naval reserves."

Just now our merchant marine is engaged in a little rate war with the Lamport & Holt line of Great Britain, which slashed passenger rates to South America. Chairman Lasker of the shipping board immediately made a cut below the Lamport & Holt rate and told that firm he was in the fight to a finish.

OBITUARY

Lillie Hughes Ford was born June 9, 1881 and departed from this life March 14, 1923, after a short illness of the developing pneumonia. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hughes and was married to Sherman Ford July 9, 1901 and to this union ten children were born, nine of which survive. She leaves a father and mother, three sisters and one brother, a husband and children to mourn her loss.

Lillie was a dutiful daughter, a faithful wife and a loving mother. She professed faith in Christ at the age of sixteen and joined Mt. Zion church the same year where she remained a faithful member until God said it is enough, come up higher. The remains were laid to rest at the Mt. Zion cemetery.

Lillie was loved by all who knew her and we call for help passed by her upward. It was hard to give her up, Phone 7.

But God's will be done not ours, for we know that the Lord's way is not always our way, it is the best way.

We can thank God that the her precious face is seen no more and never again will we hear her gentle loving voice, we have this consolation of knowing that the her voice is still forever in this life, that she is rejoicing and giving praise to her Father and Redeemer.
